RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Operating from the safety of U.S. military bases in this country and Thailand, a syndicate led by Army and Air Force sergeants smuggled more than $300 million in pure heroin into this country on Air Force tanker planes, federal officials say.

The heroin was hidden in false bottoms attached to wooden tables and other furniture shipped from U Tapao Air Force Base in Thailand as military baggage or was concealed in black AWOL bags — the small hand luggage carried by returning GIs.

That was the account given Thursday by officials here and in Washington after federal indictments were returned in Raleigh against 14 persons, most of them present or former military men, on charges of conspiring to import heroin.

The three-count indictment returned by a federal grand jury was made public after 11 of the defendants were arrested in a series of coordinated raids by military police, federal agents and local police. Three of those indicted were already in jail, one in this country and two in Thailand.

The heroin arrived via Strategic Air Command planes at Mather and Travis Air Force bases in California, Seymour Johnson AFB, N.C., and Langley Air Force Base, Va., officials said, and was soon on its way to the streets of New York and other major cities.

At least 220 pounds of heroin came into this country that way between August 1974 and last October when the operation began to fall apart, officials of the Justice Department and the Drug Enforcement Administration said.

But the syndicate had been operating since 1968 from the American Star Bar on Pittbury Road in Bangkok, and officials refused to say how much heroin the ring might have shipped into this country during that time.

Peter N. Bensinger, federal drug enforcement administrator, said in Washington that the demise of the syndicate would "have a major impact on impact on importation of heroin into the United States."

One of those indicted in the heroin conspiracy was Leslie "Ike" Atkinson, 50, a retired Army master sergeant from Goldsboro, N.C., who is serving a 19-year sentence in the federal prison in Atlanta on a previous conviction for importing heroin from Thailand.

The indictment said Atkinson had continued to run the operation from his prison cell with the help of his daughter, Leslie Sharon Atkinson Arrington, 24, and her husband, Michael Otis Arrington, 24, of Raleigh, both of whom were also indicted.

Among the others indicted were James Smedley, 54, described as the procurer of heroin, and Jasper Myrick Jr., 23, of Montgomery, Ala., an alleged courier. Both are now serving terms in Kalang Prison in Bangkok.

Also named in the indictments, for allegedly serving as packers, couriers or mailers of heroin to other defendants in the United States were Freddie Clay Thornton, 40, Detroit; Rudolph Valentine Jennings, 49, Goldsboro, N.C.; William King Wright, 30, Washington; William Thomas, 42, Goldsboro; Monroe Lorenzo Martin Jr., 43, Long Beach, Calif.; Robert Ernest Patterson, 34, Hampton, Va.; William Kelly Brown, 38, Augusta, Ga.; James McArthur, 40, Fayetteville, N.C.; and Charles Murphy Gillis, 40, Goldsboro.

Reporter discovers stolen car

DEXTER — A car stolen Wednesday night was found Thursday by Frank Watson, a reporter for The Daily Standard, a Sikeston newspaper, and returned to its owner by police.

The 1973 model car was found abandoned on Crane Street near a Missouri Utilities Co. substation with the keys in the ignition.

The car is owned by Billy Bishop of Dexter but is registered in his mother's name, Rosilee Bishop.

Bishop examined the car and told police nothing was missing from the car and that it apparently was not damaged.

The stolen car was spotted Thursday morning and was reported to police Thursday afternoon after the reporter got suspicious, examined the car closer and found it matched the description of the missing car.

A call to police verified that it was the car reported stolen from a city parking lot Wednesday night.

Police Sgt. Ken Tippen examined the car and commented that whoever took the car wasn't "a very good thief."

He found a $5 bill on the front floorboard which was not claimed by Bishop.

"Maybe they left it as payment for use of the car," he joked.

Also in the car was a basketball, jumper cables and what seemed to be a new pair of work shoes.

The windshield wipers were left in the on position, leading Tippen to suspect it was abandoned while it was raining Wednesday night.

The car was dusted for fingerprints, but Tippen said it appeared the handles had been wiped clean or the rain had washed most of the prints off.

Police suspect this theft and two others this week are the work of youngsters going on a joyride.

The only thing missing in the thefts was a citizens band radio taken from a truck stolen the same night as the car.

Argument spurs shooting

ILLMO — One man allegedly took a shot at another during an argument early today over money one allegedly owed the other, according to a spokesman for the Scott County Sheriff's department.

A deputy said the shooting took place about 3 a.m. in downtown Illmo.

Names of the men were not released pending filing of charges.

One of the men allegedly went to his house and got a .22-caliber rifle and fired it at the other man. The shot missed the target, a deputy said.

Senate approves removal of lid on student grants

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Ninety per cent of Missouri's residents would receive fluoridated water under a bill that has cleared the Missouri House.

In action Thursday, the House also gave final approval and sent to the Senate bills exempting farm implements from city sales tax, updating standards for mobile home manufacturers and mandating reflectorization standards for bicycles ridden after dark.

The Senate tentatively approved removal of the $3.5 million lid on funding for the state's college student grant program, although that plan is now hung up in a legal challenge before the Missouri Supreme Court.

The statewide fluoridation plan, sponsored by Rep. H.N. Sutherland, D-Bethany, would require 300 water supplies currently not adding fluoride to do so by 1978. Only supplies with less than 500 customers and rural water supply districts would be exempt.

The bill gained overwhelming approval despite charges that fluoridation would harm residents.

"This would force the large water companies to put poison in their water," argued Rep. Don Randall, St. Joseph. Residents of his area rejected fluoridation several years ago.

But supporters of the bill claimed fluoridation has been researched for 40 years and used in proper amounts produced no harmful side effects. Statistics also show, they contended, that children using fluoridated water have less tooth decay.

The mobile home bill had originally included regulation of mobile home park operators as well as manufacturers, but the park owner regulations were stripped from the bill by members claiming they infringed on the operators' rights to conduct their own businesses.

But sponsor Al Mueller, D-St. Louis, gained approval of a provision that he says could allow the attorney general to go to court against park owners on the basis of substantive tenant complaints. Mueller said, however, he hopes to have the park owner regulations restored to the bill in the Senate.

Sen. Ray Howard, D-St. Louis, argued successfully for the abolition of the funding limit on the student grant program despite the court case, winning its adoption on a 26-3 vote.

River port study favorable

CAPE GIRARDEAU — A favorable report on establishing a regional Mississippi River port here has been given by the Army Corps of Engineers, the Southeast Missouri Regional Port Authority learned Wednesday in a letter to chairman C. W. Rushing of Cape Girardeau.

Rushing said a preliminary reconnaissance study by the corps' St. Louis District had been approved by divisional headquarters at Vicksburg, Miss.

This approval now means that the report will be forwarded to Washington, D. C., with the recommendation that a detailed study of the project be conducted.

Such a study, though, is unlikely to begin immediately since federal funding is presently unavailable, Rushing said.

However, he indicated the port authority would probably attempt to secure some funds. "The legislative route is the one we will take," he said, adding that 10th District Rep. Bill Burlison, D-Cape Girardeau, will be contacted.

Other alternatives will also be explored, the chairman said. "With this information we are in good shape to go to the agencies to secure the money and we just might be able to get it this way," he said.

Other agencies which may be approached include the state and the Ozark and Southeast Missouri Regional Planning Commissions.

The port, to be developed under corps jurisdiction, could be the beginning of a larger facility envisioned by the authority in the future.

A stretch of the Mississippi 12.5 mile long has been designated as a general location for the port. It runs from within Mile 43.7 near the railroad bridge at Thebes, Ill., to Mile 56.2, directly across from Devil's Island north of Cape Girardeau.

Preference for a site in the area of the Diversion Channel has been expressed by the commission. The Cape Girardeau and Scott County Courts appropriated $20,000 each last year to get the project to his point.

3 sentenced to state pen

BENTON — Three persons were ordered committed to the Missouri State Penitentiary Thursday in Scott County Circuit Court by Judge Marshall Craig, according to Scott County Prosecuting Attorney James Moore.

Eddie Lee Butler and Walter Gibson of Charleston were sentenced to five-year terms for the Jan. 16 armed robbery of Helms Quick Sack No. 1, 110

Branum Ave. The robbery ended in a shootout with police officers in Morehouse.

A third man arrested in the same case, Jessie Watts of Charleston, is awaiting trial.

Janie Messmer of Chaffee was ordered to serve a two-year term following a probation revocation hearing on a motion filed by Moore.

She had been sentenced in July 1974 for forgery and was then placed on probation.

The revocation hearing was held after she pleaded guilty Jan. 5 to passing a bad check in Cape Girardeau.

In other proceedings, James Edward Houston of Charleston and Randall S. Carnell of Sikeston had their requests for probation continued to March 29 and were ordered to remain in the Scott County jail.

They were sentenced Feb. 23 to three years in prison for a Nov. 11, 1975 burglary at Dan McCoy Seed Co. in Sikeston.

Gary Lee Foote of Sikeston pleaded guilty to four charges of dealing in controlled substances during 1975 and was sentenced to five years in prison on each charge, then placed on probation for five years.

Stoddard to vote on tax issue

BLOOMFIELD — The Stoddard County Court decided Thursday to call a special election on Aug. 3 to decide whether or not to levy a tax to finance a countywide sheltered workshop and another special election within the next 30 days on a tax levy affecting Castor Township.

The Aug. 3 special election will be held in conjunction with the county primary election.

The amount of the levy to be requested has not been decided by the court, which called the election at the request of county citizens.

The court said there is a sheltered workshop organization in Stoddard County but that it is presently using Scott County's facilities.

The other election will involve only Castor Township to decide whether or not to levy a temporary tax of 35 cents per $100 assessed valuation to replace old iron bridges in the township with concrete bridges.

The court said more than one bridge needs replacing but a bridge located about half a mile east of Bloomfield is in especially bad shape.

The township will set the election date and pay for the election.

If the levy is approved, it can be for as little as one year or as long as four years before it has to be voted on again.

It is up to the township to decide how long to collect the tax.

The present metal bridges were built in the 1920s, the court said.

5 seek 2 alderman seats in Bloomfield

BLOOMFIELD — Races have developed for both aldermanic positions to be filled in the April 6 city election, it was announced after Saturday's filing deadline.

In ward one, Alvin "Sonny" McRoy is opposed by Annette Lumsden. Dow Kingree, the incumbent, did not file.

In ward two, Bob Forister, the incumbent, is opposed in his bid for re-election by Billy Bishop and Larry Lancaster.

Polling places will be the library in the ward two and the community room of the housing project in ward one.

Election judges in ward two are Mary Stevens, Mildred Caine, Dorothy Lemar and Elmer Hopkins.

Judges in ward one are Cassie Gaines, Virginia Milner, Wylene Perry and John Ashley.

Student costs to increase at SeMo University

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Room and board costs will go up an average of 6.2 per cent at Southeast Missouri State University, beginning in the fall of 1976.

The rate increase, first in more than two years, was approved Thursday by the university's board of regents. The board was alerted last August by President Robert Leestamper that rates might have to be increased due to rising expenses for food and labor.

Under the revised rate schedule, a student living in one of the university's newer residence halls — Dearmont Quadrangle, Greek Housing, and the Towers Complex — will pay $950 for the academic year for room and board.

Rooms which accommodate two students in Cheney Hall, a women's dormitory, and Myers Hall, a men's dorm, and in individual homes owned by the university will be $900 a year per student for room and board.

Large rooms in both Cheney and Myers Hall, which house three students each, will run $800 per academic year per student for room and board.

The Board of Regents also approved increased room and board rates for the 1977 summer session. This summer students will continue to pay $25 per week each for a double room and $38 per week for a private room. In June, 1977, however, the double rooms will be $30 per student per week and private rooms will be $40 per student per week.

Room and board rates for the school year at Southeast Missouri State now range from a low of $758 to a high of $998.

Also going up next fall will be tuition charges paid by students attending the university's campus school. The tuition is now $30 per year. Dr. Leestamper sought and received approval from the board to raise the tuition to $50 in the fall of this year, to $75 in the fall of 1977, and to $100 in the fall of 1978.

Dr. Leestamper told the regents that the tuition at laboratory schools at many colleges and universities is as much as $300-$400 per year.

The room and board and tuition increases were the last items on the board's agenda. Earlier in the meeting Dr. Leestamper reported on the status of the university's budget for the next fiscal year, which begins July 1.

Noting that the Missouri Coordinating Board for Higher Education (CBHE) had recommended a 33 per cent increase for next year in Southeast Missouri State's operating budget, Dr. Leestamper reminded the board that Gov. Christopher S. Bond had trimmed this to 15 per cent. The Missouri House of Representatives retained the 15 per cent increase, the president said.

However, he said he was encouraged that the Senate voted Wednesday (March 24) to add $200,000 to the governor's recommended $10.6 million operating appropriation for the university. Last year Southeast Missouri State received a $9.4 million appropriation for operating expenses.

In the capital improvements area, Dr. Leestamper told the regents, the governor has recommended only $100,626 for physical plant improvements. This is the lowest amount recommended for any of the regional universities, he said, and "is inadequate for the ordinary maintenance and upkeep of the physical plant."

The CBHE recommended that Southeast Missouri State receive $300,000 for general physical plant improvements plus $605,000 for an addition to Serena Industrial and Technical Education Building. Dr. Leestamper said he recently wrote members of the House Appropriations Committee asking that they follow the CBHE recommendations.

In the letter, which he shared with the board, Dr. Leestamper wrote, "In only one year of the past eight has the capital appropriation for this institution been above the average of the other regional universities. In six of the other seven years Southeast's appropriation was the lowest or next to lowest."

The letter also pointed out, with respect to the need for the industrial and technical education building addition, "While enrolling 22 per cent of all students in industrial and technical fields in the five regional schools, we have only five per cent of the usable space for such instruction."

No hearings on capital outlays have yet been held by the Legislature, the president said.

Another status report received by the board dealt with the various married student housing possibilities which the regents have been considering since last year.

Bids to convert the vacant Marquette Hotel into apartments for married students will be received on March 31, Dr. Leestamper said.

The other possibilities for married student housing are to construct a modular home

"T" DAY IS CLOSE!

Old "Satchelfoot" Paige is acclaimed, among other things, for his famous saying: "Never look back; it might be gaining on you." Which is probably another way of saying that it usually pays to look ahead. And right now is not a bad time to pass the reminder that "T" Day — Federal Income Tax Report Day — is rapidly approaching. Specifically, the deadline is midnight, Thursday, April 15 — and that hour of reckoning will be here before you know it.

The warning is out that whatever time you spent last year in computing the amount you owe Uncle Sam, figure about double that time this year. The reason is that our tax geniuses in Washington have, after undoubtedly much time and effort, managed to make this year's tax forms much more complicated than ever before.

But, a little time and effort on your part may enable you to realize a considerable saving on your 1975 taxes. For example, if you use a car for business purposes, the IRS allows you $.15 a mile for the first 15,000 miles of travel and $.10 per mile over 15,000 miles. But, because of inflation, the actual cost of running an automobile, on the average, comes to $.18 a mile or even more. Hence, if you take time to compute all of your automobile expenses, including depreciation, etc., you may find that your business travel deductions are higher than the IRS "standard" allowable deduction.

The standard personal deduction is increased this year to 16 per cent of "adjusted gross income." But, in addition, a $30 "tax credit" has been added for each personal exemption — this on top of the regular $750 personal exemption. Folks who bought a new house and moved in after March 12, 1975, (but not after December 31) get a tax credit of up to 5 per cent of the cost of the new home, up to a maximum of $2,000.

In addition to moneys contributed to tax-exempt and charitable organizations, contributions to politicians can be deducted — up to $100 maximum deduction for singles and $200 for married-joint return couples. Of course, it is too late now to start a "pension plan" for 1975 (but you can still start for 1976); and in any case, even if you did begin a pension fund for yourself last year, the IRS rules and regulations are so filled with pitfalls that you can end up paying more taxes instead of less. It is best to rely on your friendly banker or knowledgeable financial institution to guide you in that area.

In any event, the earlier you start to figure your tax reports, the better off you will probably be.

GOVERNMENT EXPENDITURES ARE 36 PER CENT OF GNP

Federal, state and local government expenditures for the first three quarters of 1975 stood at an adjusted annual rate of $525.8 billion — 36.1 per cent of the U.S. gross national product, according to Tax Foundation. GNP was $1,453.7 billion on an adjusted annual rate.

GNP has climbed at a rate close to $100 billion a year since 1970, but in the same period the ration of government expense has increased from 32 per cent to the present level of over 36 per cent.

In 1970, as the accompanying table shows, total government expenditures at all levels were $312.7 billion. In 1950 government spent $60.8 billion, 21.3 per cent of that year's GNP.

1975 is the first year since World War II in which government costs were more than a third of the total output of the nation's goods and services. The highest percentage on record occurred in 1944, when wartime demands pushed total government spending, largely Federal, to 49 per cent of GNP.

Think these facts and figures over as you listen to candidates in this election year — it's your taxes they're spending.

XXX FEDERAL VENDETTA

Any objective person who examines the record would agree with former Gov. Warren E. Hearnes when he says he is the victim of harassment and political smear by the U.S. Attorney's office in Kansas City.

In August it will be four years that the U.S. Attorney's office has been "investigating" Mr. Hearnes. It should be rather obvious now that the so-called investigation has evolved, as Hearnes says, into a vendetta.

Let's look at the record. Since he ended his last year as Missouri governor and he was encouraged to run for the U.S. Senate, Warren Hearnes' name has been dragged through the mud by the news media because of the inquiry by the U.S. Attorney's office. We doubt that many other governors who must operate in the political arena could have survived such a relentless and unscrupulous investigation.

Despite the supposed secrecy that a grand jury operates under, information repeatedly has been leaked to the news media about the investigation relating to Hearnes.

A convicted criminal was brought in to testify against Hearnes before the grand jury. But even this dubious tactic did not convince the grand jury that Hearnes was involved in any wrongdoing.

Hearnes says he was told several times during the last four years that the investigation had been completed. But after a few months, the federal inquiry resumed.

Now the latest episode in the vendetta against Hearnes has unfolded. Assistant U.S. Attorney Paul Anthony White has testified that one of the reasons he pushed for the quick indictment of St. Louis banker Donald E. Lasater was the hope that Lasater would provide information about Hearnes. The theory was that Lasater would talk if he had an indictment hanging over his head.

This reprehensible tactic by the U.S. attorney's office is nothing more than an invitation to perjury. Hang the guy we want, the prosecutor can suggest, and we will go easy or let you off.

"To think that the federal government would concoct a charge and put a man's head on the block in order to try to get something on me is unbelievable," Hearnes says.

Despite its tactics, the U.S. Attorney's office still has been unable to discover any wrongdoing by Hearnes, and Lasater was found innocent by a federal judge. Now, apparently in another desperate attempt to continue the vendetta in the media against Hearnes, the U.S. Attorney's office has taken the unusual step of appealing the federal judge's decision releasing Lasater. The move will have the effect of dragging out the election year media inquisition against Hearnes, a candidate for the U.S. Senate.

With the vendetta continuing, Hearnes says he can only conclude that someone in Washington is pulling the strings to smear him in an attempt to keep him from being elected to the U.S. Senate.

Certainly the federal grand jury has an obligation to check into alleged charges of wrongdoing. But it is quite another matter to allow that fruitless inquisition lasting almost four years that apparently is designed only to smear a man's good name for political purposes.

We would not condone wrongdoing in any political administration.

Hearnes, a graduate of West Point and an attorney, is a patriotic and honorable man who has drawn substantial support from both major political parties during his long and distinguished career.

It is time for the U.S. Attorney

General to launch an immediate investigation into the operation of the U.S. Attorney's office in Kansas City to determine why the members of that office are attempting to draw and quarter Hearnes for political reasons.

The Missouri Bar Administration, appointed by the Missouri Supreme Court, also should check into the operation of the U.S. Attorney's office and make a report to the Missouri Supreme Court, which handles discipline or disbarment of lawyers who practice in Missouri.

IS FREEDOM AN ENDANGERED SPECIES?

At the start of 1976, only one in five individuals in the world's 158 nations and 51 territories enjoyed full political and civil rights. Only a year earlier, one in three had been considered free.

This assessment is by Freedom House, an American nonprofit group that has been monitoring levels of liberty around the world for 24 years.

Freedom House judges political rights on the ability of individuals to bring about changes in government on national and local levels. Civil rights are measured on the basis of press and radio-TV freedom, and the ability of the citizen to bluntly: "The present specifications for...screw-threads," they charge, "allow manufacturers and distributors to dump millions of worthless fasteners into the market each year..."

"Screw thread failures have cost the government billions of dollars and...contributed to the loss of aircraft and human life."

Although manufacturers and distributors are fully aware of this, the report adds grimly, they "have continuously blocked the development of new standards."

Our own investigation supports the subcommittee findings. From Army studies, we have learned of screws and nuts wearing out or snapping off in vital parts of planes in flight.

One unpublished lab report tells of a helicopter blade whirling off in midair. The wreckage was inspected by Army experts who determined that faulty screw threads were "a probable contributing factor in the failure."

Another crash study reports that a helicopter suddenly lunged crazily at 126 miles an hour. "The tail rotor separated from the aircraft at 800 feet," states the study. The cause? Army specialists traced it to a metal fatigue originating "at the intersection of a thread root and pin hole."

Army metallurgical scientists were outraged over the screws and nuts they found in crashed planes. In some parts, they discovered that 100 per cent of the screws and nuts failed to meet safety specifications. The best batch was only 47 per cent safe.

Yet the companies that made the faulty, perhaps fatal parts didn't seem to care. "Inspection...is not sufficient," the scientists concluded.

Footnote: Industrial spokesmen insist that "the present specifications have served industry well" and that any new testing method would be "too costly and unnecessary."

These are the disturbing findings of investigators for the Senate Antitrust subcommittee. In a staff report, they have put it

Saudi Arabia has but 35 helicopters, all of them described as "utility" aircraft. On the sea, the shah's 18,500-man navy is training to man three destroyers, four frigates and three submarines recently purchased from the United States. Saudi Arabia's insignificant 1,500-man navy doesn't possess a single warship of any size.

The shah, meanwhile, has established peaceful relations with neighboring Iraq, a traditional enemy of Iran. If the shah should move against Saudi Arabia, however, some analysts believe the Iraqis would break their agreement with the shah and support the Saudis.

This would involve a 15,000-man air force, with 358 jet fighters and 171 helicopters, plus a 3,000-man navy, with 11 missile boats. And from a greater distance, Egypt and Jordan would also be expected to back Saudi Arabia. This would add another 628 fighter planes, 37 jet bombers, 5 destroyers, 12 submarines and 14 missile boats to the Arab forces.

SCREW SCANDAL: In a classic case of a battle being lost for want of a horseshoe nail, shoddy screws have cost the government billions and have contributed to air crashes.

Metal screws hold together everything from computers to high-stress airplane parts. When screws snap or loosen, the equipment may cease to function or may even self-destruct.

Yet unscrupulous manufacturers have produced screws that have caused costly accidents. The nut-and-bolt industry could have avoided these disasters by manufacturing more craftsmanlike products. But the specifications for screws and nuts are fixed by industry-run "standards committees," which have been more interested in profits than in safety.

These are the disturbing findings of investigators for the Senate Antitrust subcommittee. In a staff report, they have put it speaking freely, sue the government—and win in court.

Freedom House said that the major setback to democratic societies occurred in India where 619.6 million people lost many of their rights when Prime Minister Indira Gandhi imposed a "state of emergency." As a result, only 19.8 per cent of the world's 4.06 billion people now live in freedom, 35.3 per cent are partly free and 44.9 per cent are not free.

Here's how Freedom House lists nations and territories:

FREE: Australia, Austria, Bahamas, Barbados, Belgium, Botswana, Canada, Colombia, Costa Rica, Denmark, El Salvador, Fiji, Finland, France, Gambia, Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, Luxembourg, Malta, Mauritius, Nauru, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, San Marino, Surinam, Sweden, Switzerland, Thailand, Trinidad and Tobago, Turkey, United Kingdom, United States, Venezuela and West Germany.

PARTIALLY FREE: Andorra, Argentina, Bahrain, Bhutan, Brazil, Cameroon, Cape Verde Islands, Comoro Islands, Congo Republic, Cyprus, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Egypt, Grenada, Guatemala, Guyana, Honduras, India, Indonesia, Kenya, Kuwait, Lebanon, Lesotho, Liberia, Liechtenstein, Malagasy Republic, Malaysia, Maldives, Mexico, Monaco, Morocco, Nicaragua, Nigeria, Pakistan, Papua New Guinea, Paraguay, Peru, Philippines, Portugal, Sao Tome e Principe, Senegal, Sierra Leone, Singapore, South Africa, South Korea, Spain, Sri Lanka, Swaziland, Tonga, Upper Volta, Uruguay, Western Samoa and Zambia.

NOT FREE: Afghanistan, Albania, Algeria, Angola, Bangladesh, Benin (Dahomey), Bolivia, Brunei, Bulgaria, Burma, Burundi, Cambodia, Central African Republic, Chad, Chile, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Equatorial Guinea, Ethiopia, Gabon, Ghana, Guinea, Guinea-Bissau, Haiti, Hungary, Iran, Iraq, Ivory Coast, Jordan, Laos, Libya, Malawi, Mali, Mauritania, Mongolia, Mozambique, Nepal, Niger, North Korea, North Vietnam, Oman, Panama, Poland, Qatar, Rhodesia, Rumania, Rwanda, Saudi Arabia, Somalia, South Vietnam, South Yemen, Sudan, Syria, Taiwan, Tanzania, Togo, Tunisia, Uganda, USSR, United Arab Emirates, Yemen, Yugoslavia and Zaire.

Perhaps this list of nations and territories explains the divisions in the United Nations where freedom is concerned, but it should be a warning to Americans that our defense should come first.

ONE OF THE BEST

This newspaper opposed changing the old Post Office Department into a government corporation, the Postal Service.

We predicted the result would be less service and higher rates. One of our points was that a major argument for the change—that the government corporation would put the mail service on a self-supporting basis—could possibly be achieved only by service cuts and higher postage rates; and that either of these results would be contrary to some of the reasons for establishing a national postal system in the first place. Among these reasons were aiding in low cost flow of information so vital to a democracy and helping to create and sustain commerce and industry and the jobs and income they produce.

Now, we're not crowing that even additional cuts in service and higher rates are indicated.

Purpose of this editorial is to point out that even with these things happening U.S. citizens are still getting cheaper and better mail service than most other countries of the world.

A recent General Accounting Office survey of 10 major foreign postal systems indicates:

—The U.S. Postal Service processes five to 55 times more letter mail than other countries.

—Handles more letter per postal employee.

—Covers a larger geographic area.

—Boasts a postal rate that is lowest among the ten surveyed countries except for Switzerland and Canada.

The Postal Service may be a popular whipping boy but by comparison it's one of the best postal systems in the world.

XXX A BALANCE OF POWER

In a thoughtful article entitled "The Veto: Key To Effective Government," which appears in the June issue of The Reader's Digest, Mr. Melvin R. Laird, former Secretary of Defense and chief domestic adviser to President Nixon from June, 1973 to February, 1974, discusses the importance of the presidential power to veto legislation passed by the Congress. Mr. Laird speaks from his wealth of experience, both in the Executive Branch and as a Republican Congressman from Wisconsin for nine terms.

In Mr. Laird's view, the veto is, "...the sole constitutional power a President has to prevent hasty or ill-considered laws." It is a positive tool of presidential leadership conducive to more reasonable and workable legislation. It can save tax money and curb the passage of unwise legislation which might otherwise become the law of the land during a rush of majority enthusiasm, untempered by judicious consideration. Congress always has the final legislative word, since it can pass a bill over a presidential veto by two thirds vote in both Houses of Congress. Some see the Watergate backlash as an opportunity to elect a "vetoproof" Congress in the November elections. Any such development which would, for a time, cripple the President's leadership ability and disrupt the balance of power between the Executive and Legislative Branches would not be in the interest of good government.

Many of the institutions of government are under severe attack. As Mr. Laird observes, it is imperative at such a time that the American people "...remember the solid record of accomplishment that our form of government—including the veto power—has achieved." It is not a time to jump on some ill-conceived bandwagon aimed at undermining the constitutionally-granted and fundamental powers of the presidency.

Inside Labor

Mafia Duel in the Sun:
FBI believes it's high noon time inside national crime syndicate

NEW YORK — For several years now the FBI has been warning that a new Little Caesar is in the making — a new national Mr. Big. According to the Bureau, which refers to the so-called Mafia as the "LCN" (La Cosa Nostra), the man determined to take leadership of America's intriguingly powerful musclehood almost is the counterpart of a Chicago character in an old Warner Bros. movie.

The FBI puts it this way: "Carmine (Lilo) Galante may try to establish himself as the ranking LCN member in the country, deposing Carlo Gambino."

All this surfaced after a report top law enforcement agencies are checking out that the alleged Mafia "national commission" met here early in February.

It must have been a ghostly gathering since several of the old-time dons who reportedly were commission members, such as Buffalo's Stefano Magaddino, Long Island's Tommy (Three Finger Brown) Luchese, Vito Genovese and Sam Giancana, are dead. Only the latter died of unnatural causes — bullets.

However, what has been fascinating federal investigators is the friendship of 5-foot-3, stocky, balding, cigar-smoking (he must have seen a late, late movie of Edward G. Robinson) Galante with the vanished James Riddle Hoffa. There are reports that Galante protected Hoffa in G-block of Lewisburg (Pa.) penitentiary during their mutual incarceration there.

Galante, who served almost two decades in prison, was released early in 1974 from Atlanta prison, where he had the chance to meet several once-powerful labor racketeers. There's no doubt, also, that this tough, chunky man, who has kept a low profile and high polish, loathes Don Carlo Gambino, the one reputed Mafioso who has had more labor racketeering influence than virtually the entire syndicate, with the exception of the Chicago combine.

And few insiders doubt the veracity of the report by former Boston Mafioso Vinnie Teresa that "Lilo" told other Lewisburg prison G-block inmates that he would some day force Carlo Gambino to dirty up Times Square. I've cleaned up that sentence.

Thus there's reason to believe that Galante for years has been planning strategy to topple the aging Don Carlo, long the boss of bosses who has lived quietly shuttling between his Brooklyn and Massapequa homes.

Galante, according to high enforcement officials, has been working steadily to toughen and control the unobtrusive "family" allegedly headed by the long-quiet, self-exiled Arizona-based Joe Bonanno.

That group was led by the powerful garment and trucking racketeer, the rag jungle lord, Natale (Joe Diamond) Evola. So much so that government insiders referred to it as the "Evola-Bonanno" crowd.

But Evola died of cancer on Aug. 30, 1973. When Galante was sprung later he moved quietly, knowing he was and still is under surveillance.

But now, the federal people say Lilo Galante is the family's strong man. And he has begun to move swiftly and challenge Gambino's power. Significance here is that most of the other families have been hit by violence and the one spectre which permits no immortality. Not even if one is a don or a "made" member of a Mafia group.

Where then does the newly powerful Galante band move? Anywhere it wishes.

Who can stop it? "Chicago" has its own problems. It's still attempting to learn just how much was leaked to the FBI via the CIA by the late cocky Giancana. Actually it still has no single leader. In Detroit, the alleged "boss," Joe Zeri, is aging, ill and disturbed by the fantastic concentration of lawmen poking into the Hoffa mystery.

So it goes with the old New Jersey-based Genovese crowd. Its reported leader Funzi Tieri is ailing seriously; the Philadelphia alliance's Angelo Bruno's sick. And of course the so-called Colombo organization, whose alleged leader Joe Colombo still is comatose from a 1971 bullet in the head.

So the field is wide open

Folding screens can be esthetic as well as concealing

A folding screen can be a very useful object in the home, concealing a messy area, a television corner, a child's play area, or providing a little isolated place for sewing, hobbies or special projects. It should be lightweight so that it can be moved quickly and with ease.

The height and width of it should be determined by the family do-it-yourselfer so that it can perform its function. Allowance must be made for the space required to place the screen in a steady position — you can't just stretch it out. And the wood frame must be long enough to perform as a stand.

Other family members might add the decorative touches. It is an ideal place for family photographs. Placed neatly on the screen, the pictures can be changed from time to time. Rubber cement or some other temporary adhesive might be used.

The screen can be useful for displaying a collection — match covers, tourist labels, menus, textiles, Christmas cards. Some families have used screens as educational tools for small fry. They hang up the art efforts of junior and sis or they might pin up historical pictures, maps, math equations, or use screens to provide word familiarity. Matte paper can provide a background for such temporary use.

But there is a lot of fun, too, in covering it with handwork — crochet, crewel, sewing bits or drawings. A patchwork screen could be a great attraction in a family room or dining "el." If such panels are stapled to the background that is used between the screen's frame, they could be removed easily and a new idea substituted.

Creative backgrounds aren't necessary — whitewashed pine boards can be extremely attractive. Painted, semigloss or gloss enamels are among the most effective finishes that can be used on such screens, advise paint experts. Even factory-sanded, unfinished screens should be sanded lightly before the enamel undercoat is applied, they suggest. If a second application of undercoat is necessary, sand lightly between the coats.

Rough wood that is pickled or antiqued should have a smooth finish because you will need to move the screen about. New pine boards can make a very attractive screen and provide a nice smooth surface. One bright kelly green screen used near a bright white wall is a major attraction in one garden room. In the center of each green panel there is a picture of a large red geranium in a pot. Cut from seed catalogs, the pictures were pasted down and treated to a coat of shellac.

Old grayed wood or wood that has been "aged" by the do-it-yourselfer can be set in random lengths to make a handsome screen.

Screens can be covered with wallpaper, vinyl tiles or cast-off red screen has a black and sheet music. The motif depends white Picasso print in each of on the area where the screen is four panels for a really good to be used. One handsome deep look.

A basket weaver might like a long-time project making a Chinese-type screen. Fit the woven panels between furring strips that are attached to the panels with reed caning or raffia.

MAGISTRATE COURT

CHARLESTON—Twenty-eight cases were heard Thursday in Mississippi County Magistrate Court by Judge Lloyd Briggs of Scott County, appointed to share temporary magistrate and probate judge duties with Judge John Bailey of New Madrid County until a replacement is named to succeed Judge T. J. Brown Jr. of Charleston, who died last week.

A preliminary hearing for Eddie Greer of Cairo, Ill., was set for April 15 and bond was reduced from $10,000 to $5,000 for Greer, who remained in custody on charges of burglary and stealing.

An attorney was appointed to represent Greer against charges filed in connection with a Feb. 4 break-in at Bud Arnold's TV Shop in Charleston and the theft of $3,289 worth of television and stereophonic equipment.

Preliminary hearings for Lana Voice and Nancy Strete on charges of issuing fraudulent checks were set for April 8. Both remained in custody under $1,500 bonds. Miss Voice is accused of passing a $40 bad check March 13 at Walden & Carter's Super Market in East Prairie and Miss Strete is accused of passing a $60 bad check at the same location the same day.

A similar charge against Shelby D. Wilson was continued to April 8 to allow him additional time to employ an attorney. In custody under $2,500 bond, he is accused of passing a fraudulent $30 check March 13 at Hedge Pharmacy in East Prairie.

Commitments ordered: Kenneth Patrick, East Prairie, failure to pay balance of fine and costs assessed Feb. 26 for driving while license suspended;

William Theodore Eberly, Sikeston, failure to pay fines and costs assessed March 4 for failure to transfer license plates; Richard

Neil Emanuel, East Prairie, failure to pay fine and costs levied March 18 for operating a vehicle without a vehicle license; and Donald Lane Carnell of Sikeston, failure to appear on charge of failure to transfer vehicle license.

Misdemeanor cases: Catherine Joann (Brown) Patterson, fishing without permit, $26; Michael Wayne Blasigain, East Prairie, no operator's license, 30-day jail sentence suspended on condition he obtain a valid operator's license by April 8, and failure to register vehicle, $41 fine and costs; Robert Lee Bradley, Charleston, failure to transfer vehicle license, fined $26; Larry Nelson Neal, Wyatt, speeding, $31; and Edward Earl McCleary, Wyatt, driving while intoxicated, fined $166 and given to April 2 to pay.

Civil cases: A promissory note suit for $453.60, filed by Finance America Corp. against Robert and Lucy Rodgers, was set for trial April 8.

Continued to April 1: Woodrow Anderson Jr., Charleston, improper registration by failure to transfer; David Allan Young, Rector, Ark., speeding; Marilyn Sue Douglas, Malden, expired operator's license; James H. Russell, East Prairie, driving with out-of-state license; Roy Edward Hale, Ellisville, driving while license revoked; James Laurie Edward Terrell, fishing without permit; Billy Ray Willis, East Prairie, no operator's license and failure to register vehicle.

Charles R. Phipps, Memphis, Tenn., no operator's license; Edmond Rice, Wyatt, driving with expired operator's license; Anita Faye Wilbur, East Prairie, failure to register; Susan Delaine Bates, Brownfield, speeding; Roy E. Patrick, East Prairie, driving while operator's license revoked and driving while intoxicated; Manuel Alan Molt, Bertrand, speeding; and Joe Keith Day, Charleston, speeding.

Earlier fines: Paying speeding fines earlier were: Tony Emmett Russell, $34; Thomas Allag Smith, $33; Howard Gene Bradley, $31; Michael Gene Russell, $30; Kathy Lynn Diffo, $28; and Johnny Ray Davenport, $32.

Leonard Wiley, using borrowed license plates, $26, and Kenneth Morris Wolford and Gregory Wallace Groves, violation of wildlife code, $26 each.

Harness is new police chief for city of Advance

ADVANCE — Jerry Harness of Chaffee has been sworn in as the new police chief at Advance, replacing Danny Brewer, whose resignation became effective Thursday.

Brewer has assumed a new position in the parts department of Mirley Implement Co.

The City Council accepted Brewer's resignation at a special session March 11.

The new police chief is the brother of the Rev. Clytee Harness, pastor of First Baptist Church in Advance.

The schedule for Quiz Bowl competition will be: Lilbourn versus New Madrid, 9 to 9:50 a.m., and North Pemiscot vs. Risco, 10 to 10:50 a.m. The winners of the two matches then will meet each other from 1 to 1:50 p.m.

Matthews will meet Parma from 11 to 11:50 a.m., and Portageville will meet Gideon from 12 to 12:50 p.m. Then, the winners will face each other from 2 to 2:50 p.m.

The losers of the second matches will face each other from 3 to 3:50 p.m., with the winners advancing to the finals from 4 to 4:50 p.m.

A small fee will be charged as admission to the Quiz Bowl competition.

The Quiz Bowl will be similar to the College Bowl show formerly on nationwide television for a number of years, with competition between two school teams of four panelists each.

Quiz Bowl questions will cover almost all academic areas, with the team answering the most questions correctly advancing in a tournament style.

Union representative on payroll

SODERTALJE, Sweden — (NEA) — The daily routine of Torvald Lindfors is unvarying in its variety. Torvald works in the truck assembly plant of the Saab-Scania company in this suburban city 40 kilometers (about 25 miles) southwest of Stockholm. He gets there every morning at 7:30 and starts walking up and down the different lines of workers in their job niches. He doesn't get very far down the first line before he's stopped. That's when he samples the variety of his job. Torvald is a union representative. But he's like none you find in Detroit or Birmingham or Peoria. He's on the company payroll, and his sole function since he took on the job last February, is to listen to complaints of his fellow workers — with the ears of a union man. He was elected by his coworkers to be their representative in the plant. "If I start on the north end of the building," says Torvald, who's dressed in the same working blues as everybody else, "I can't make it to the south end in two hours." Just now he's digesting the latest gripe. "Why," a worker asked him, "is the foreman always standing behind me when I work? I don't like it." "I'll have to speak to the foreman," says Torvald, "to see if the complaint has any validity." Torvald Lindfors is a curly-haired, stockily built 38-year-old native of Finland (but of Swedish parents) who, along with 100 other Finns from a little paper mill town called Tolks, migrated to the Saab-Scania (sobskon-yeh) plant here in Sodertalje (roughly, ser-der-toh-yeh) a decade ago. "In Finland," he recalls, "I wasn't interested in the union movement." But his bilingual ability, which made him a translator for the other Finns, involved him with union activities at the Chassis Assembly Building, where he worked as a fitter helping turn out 50 Scania L-140 trucks a day.

And a year ago, he was elected the workers' representative for this building (the Saab-Scania operation here also has a huge foundry and an engine factory which produces 70,000 annually for Saab autos).

"It's not very liked," he says.

ESSEX — Revival services will begin Monday night at Castor River General Baptist Church, the Rev. Rick White, pastor of the Route Two congregation, has announced. The Rev. Elmer Cates will be the evangelist for the services, which will begin at 7:30 each evening. Special singing will be presented nightly.

says in English, which he has been studying for a couple of years. "Lots of headaches. But you can meet people. It's interesting." So are the surroundings. The plant is modern and functional, tailored for worker comfort. It is unusual to see a flower garden tucked between assembly lines, with exotic tropical plants flourishing. A few yards away, Bo Jarnsjo, who works for management, points out a pretty blonde in one of the assembly units and says, "There is another flower." There are kiosks for refreshments and sundries and a lending library for workers. Swedish workers are very hip on working ambience and on their place in corporate society.

In early 1973, a new law was passed, requiring employee representatives on the boards of companies with 100 or more employees. Now a revolutionary new bill comes before the Swedish parliament in early spring which will give workers co-determination in company business, letting them share the decision-making process

Singing concert to precede revival services

VANDUSER — Following a concert by the Gospel Believers, a singing group from Olive Branch, Ill., at 6 p.m. Sunday, revival services will begin Monday and continue through April 4 at First Church of God. The services will begin at 7:30 Monday through Saturday nights and at 9:45 a.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday, the Rev. Hershel Hunter, pastor, has announced.

in corporate affairs. "The workers are a big part of a factory," says Lindfors. "Today, the decision is made before we're involved. There is no discussion. The meaning for us to have decision powers is not to take money away but to make more money for the company. We have no money to put in but we put ourselves in." This is a view shared by Prime Minister Olof Palme, whose Social Democratic party is obviously favorable to labor's aims and is the author of Paragraph 32 to provide co-determination in running a corporation. "It's not enough in an educated society," says Palme, "just working for wages. Management has understood that the experience of the workers is a great asset for production. Some people put capital in a firm. We put in the most important thing we have — our work. And our work entitles us to participate." Lindfors says, "I think it's the right way." Because he has a vested interest. He earns 4,000 Swedish kroner a month. His wife, who works as an equipment instructor in a nearby medical supply factory, makes 3,500 kroner a month. Between them, they are earning more than $20,000 a year. "I'm saving all the time," says Torvald, "because I want to buy a house." The ultimate Swedish dream. A house costs at least $60,000 in this neck of the woods. They have a 14-year-old son. "I want him to understand he should read," says Lindfors. "I quit school when I was 14." Does the son understand? "He wants to go to work right away — to make money."

and Welfare, P.O. Box 1588, FDR Station, New York, New York 10022. All such objections must include the physician's address, the location(s) of his office(s), his signature, and a certification that such physician is engaged in the active practice of medicine or osteopathy (i.e., direct patient care and related clinical activities, administrative duties in a medical facility, or other health related institutions, and/or mental or osteopathic teaching or research activity).

Pursuant to 42 CFR 101.103, the Secretary has determined that 351 doctors of medicine and/or osteopathy are engaged in active practice in PSRO Area V of the State of Missouri. In the event that more than 10 percent of the doctors express objections as described in the preceding chapter, the Secretary will, in accordance with 42 CFR 101.104, conduct a poll of all such doctors of medicine or osteopathy in such area to determine whether the Southeast Missouri Foundation for Medical Care is representative of such doctors in the area. Provided that pursuant to Section 108(b) of Public Law 94-182, the provisions of Section 1152 (f) (42 USC 1320c-1(f)) relating to notification and polling, as described above, shall not apply where: (1) the membership association or organization representing the largest number of doctors of medicine in such area, or in the State in which such area is located if different, has adopted by resolution or other official procedure a formal policy position of opposition to or noncooperation with the established program of professional standards review; or (2) the organization proposed to be designated by the Secretary under Section 1152 of such Act has been negatively voted upon by any cordance with the provisions of subsection (f) (2) thereof.

Surviving are: her widower, Harry Alberson, and two daughters, Gladys Wheeler of Wichita, Kan., and Mildred Beame of Westville, Okla. Friends may call at Duffey-Rainey Funeral Home, where services are scheduled at 2 p.m. Saturday with the Rev. Charles Kirby officiating. Burial will follow in the Bernie Cemetery.

Ronald Richardson

REYNO, Ark. — Ronald

Richardson, 71, the father of Jack Richardson of Sikeston, Mo., died Tuesday at his home following an extended illness.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Richardson and had been a lifelong resident of Reyno. He was a landowner and farmer.

In 1927, he married Nina Taylor, formerly of Sikeston, who survives.

In addition to his widow and son, he is survived by two grandsons, Jerry Allen Richardson of Memphis, Tenn., and Kevin Richardson of Sikeston.

Services were conducted Thursday at McNabb Funeral Home in Pocahontas. Burial followed in Johnson Cemetery at Reyno.

Bennie Stanley

CHARLESTON — Bennie Stanley, 64, of 715 S. Grand St. died at 11:10 p.m. Wednesday in Missouri Delta Community Hospital at Sikeston, following an extended illness.

Born Dec. 21, 1911 at Wolf Island, he had lived in Charleston since early childhood and was a member of Perry Chapel African Methodist Episcopal Church and a veteran of World War II.

Survivors include: his widow, Mrs. Dorothy Stanley; three sons, Dean, Ronnie and Ricky Stanley of the home; and one daughter, Charvette Stanley of the home.

Friends may call from 1 to 8 p.m. Saturday at Sparks Funeral Home. The body will be moved to the family home at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, where it will remain until time for services, scheduled at 1:30 p.m. Sunday in Perry Chapel AME Church. The Rev. L. J. Hall Jr., pastor, will officiate. Burial will follow in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Earl Michael

DALEVILLE, Ala. — Earl Michael, 67, formerly of Charleston, Mo., died Thursday at his home.

The body is being moved to Shelby Funeral Home in Charleston, where arrangements are incomplete.

Richland R-1 reviewed and "in good shape"

ESSEX — The Richland R-1 School District seems to be "in good shape", the Board of Education learned Friday night.

It was reported that all school buses had been inspected and certified by the state.

It was also reported that the state had reviewed the school's 1974-75 audit and "all is in good shape."

The board decided to start a learning disabilities program for the 1976-77 school year and approved the 1976-77 school calendar.

The school will start Aug. 24 for students and will end May 20, 1977.

Spring vacation this year will be April 14-18.

In other business, the board learned new tables, chairs and other equipment for the elementary lunchroom have arrived and contracts for tennis courts to be built have been let.

Today's Prayer

"The earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein." (Psalm 24:1)

PRAYER: Our Father, Thou art so great and we are so small. Permit us to slip our hands into Thine, and guide us safely in all things throughout this day. In Jesus' name. Amen.

village in the northwest corner of the campus or to lease a partially-renovated building, the Fountain Plaza.

Both the Marquette and the Fountain Plaza are in the city's downtown area.

Dr. Leestamper said that after studying the bids on the Marquette renovation he would be in a position to make a specific recommendation to the board on this matter. A special meeting, beginning at noon on April 3, was called for the board to hear that recommendation and probably make a final determination of the issue.

In other business, the board authorized the university to gather information about catering companies which specialize in running college, hospital, and airport food service operations on a contract basis. Southeast Missouri State's food service operation is now operated exclusively by the university. If such a contract is ever entered into, the university's present food service employees would be retained, the president noted.

On still other matters, the board:

—Learned that the building naming committee, which the regents created last fall, had surveyed the policies of neighboring institutions and is developing guidelines to recommend to the regents at their May meeting.

—Approved a major in social work. The program had previously been okayed by the university's credits and classification committee and the CBHE. Students majoring in social work will receive a bachelor of science degree. It is estimated that about 30 students will graduate from the program each year.

—Was informed that the university intends to utilize a portion of the University Farm property at the intersection of 3erling and Sprigg to build a baseball diamond. The university does not have its own diamond at present and is continually encountering conflicts at the city-owned facility which it uses for intercollegiate games. It was noted that the diamond would not prevent the ground at the intersection from being utilized in another way at some future time.

First Nazarene burns note

First Church of the Nazarene, Highway 61 North, which is celebrating its 50th year in Sikeston, burned the first of two $60,000 notes of mortgage Sunday morning. Taking part in the noteburning ceremony, from left, are trustees Herman Paullus, Marvin "Bud" Wallace and Woodrow "Woody" Wilson, treasurer Carolyn Nickell, Sunday School Supt. Glen Bond and the Rev. Eldon Russell, pastor. Charles Manley and Jim Nickell are other trustees of the church, which has a balance of $49,300 left on its total indebtedness.

Iron curtain ministries to be promoted

A World Christian Ministries dinner will be held at 7 p.m. April 2 at the Holiday Inn, Highway 61 South.

The purpose of the dinner meeting is to encourage interest and support of ministries behind the Iron Curtain, with special emphasis on Russia.

World Christian Ministries broadcasts the gospel through radio and literature and distributes Bibles free in the languages of Eastern Europe.

The dinner speaker will be the Rev. George B. Derkatch, a native of Canada, and founder-director of the organization. A fluent speaker of the Russian language, the Rev. Mr. Derkatch will tell of experiences encountered in the communist countries. An author, much of his ministry is described in his book, "No Boundaries with God," and in "Conflicting Laws".

The dinner meeting is planned for adults, and reservations may be made through Ginger Keefe, telephone number 471-7488; Maurice Hixon, 471-1954; Margaret Alexander, 471-4167; or area director Kurt Haas of Neosho, (417) 451-1933.

Murdocks to lead crusade

Mike and Linda Murdock of Lake Charles, La., will be guest evangelists for a three-day crusade Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at First Assembly of God Church, 306 S. Kingshighway. The crusade will begin during Sunday School at 9:30 a.m. and continue in the 10:40 a.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday worship services. The crusade will continue Monday and Tuesday at 7 p.m., with nursery attendants on duty for all services. The Murdocks have recorded several long playing albums with a variety of gospel music. Both are accomplished keyboard musicians and have recently written some of their own songs. Also a straight-forward preacher, the Rev. Mr. Murdock preached for the Southern Missouri District Assemblies of God youth camp last summer at the Lake of the Ozarks.

Film to be shown at Calvary

When the technicolor motion picture, "The Land Where Jesus Walked", comes to Calvary Assembly Church, 127 W. Trotter St., for a showing at 7 p.m. Sunday, it will be a first for Dr. John R. Rice who narrates the story of the birth, the crucifixion and the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

"First," Dr. John Rice will tell you, "because even though I have traveled to this Land of our Lord 14 times, it is the first time we have tried to show it as it might have been during the time of Jesus."

To accomplish this, Dr. Rice sought The Ormond Organization, a Nashville-based motion picture company as producers. The contact was made through Dr. Viola Walden of the Sword of the Lord Foundation in Murfreesboro, Tenn.

"Both my son Tim and I were present at the meeting," Ron Ormond who wrote and directed "The Burning Hell" said, "and we thought the challenge simply great. The idea of showing to churches and to the public scenes such as the 'stoning of Stephen' or of 'Paul being let down in a basket at Damascus' or of 'John the Baptist baptizing in the River Jordan; fascinated us. Both Tim and I jumped at the opportunity." The Rev. T. A. McDonough, pastor, said no admission will be charged and a nursery will be provided for children three years old and under.

Full gospel group plans convention

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship International will hold a regional convention March 31 through April 3 at the Southern Illinois University Student Center.

Registration is scheduled between noon and the opening convention rally at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Meetings are scheduled throughout the day Thursday, Friday and Saturday, prior to a closing banquet at 6 p.m. Saturday.

For reservations or additional information, write to: Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship International, P. O. Box 235, Murphysboro, Ill.

The organization is a nonprofit interdenominational body of Christian laymen.

College choir to perform at Murray Lane

The Missouri Baptist College choir from St. Louis will present a program of sacred music at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in Murray Lane Baptist Church, 807 W. Murray Lane.

Following the program in the sanctuary, the 32-voice choir, directed by Marjorie Psalmonds, will provide entertainment for a fellowship program in the church fellowship hall.

Members of the choral group will also provide information for anyone interested in knowing more about Missouri Baptist College, according to the Rev. Wade Paris, pastor.

Physicians to be honored

Physicians of the Sikeston area will be honored during the 10:45 a.m. service at First United Methodist Church, Highway 61 North, Dr. Arthur C. Fulbright, pastor, has announced.

All physicians in the area have received an invitation to attend the service, during which Dr. Melvin C. Mill, 832 Park Ave., will receive a plaque and special recognition for 47 years of dedicated practice as a doctor of osteopathy in Southeast Missouri.

"Is There a Doctor in the House?", based on Luke 4:23, "... Physician heal thyself..." will be the Rev. Dr. Fulbright's sermon topic.

The first teachers' pension fund was set up in New York City in 1894.

Drama group to perform

The Covenant Players, an international repertory drama group from Reseda, Calif., will display their unique talent at 10:30 a.m. Sunday at First Christian Church, 1006 N. Main St. Having performed in more than 30,000 churches around the world since 1963, their vast repertoire of one-act plays and short vignettes have left audiences both laughing and squirming at seeing a "bit of themselves" portrayed on stage. Despite a minimal use of props and no scenery, their programs communicate with all ages.

Revival to begin Sunday at Miner

Revival services will begin Sunday at Miner Baptist Church, located at the intersection of Route H and Highway 62 East, and will continue through April 4.

The evangelist will be the Rev. Russell Hyatt of Tusculum. The Rev. Mr. Hyatt was pastor at First Baptist Church at Tusculum for five years prior to entering full-time evangelistic work. Since his beginning in the ministry eight years ago, he has led over 300 persons to commitment to Christ.

The music during the revival will be led by the church music director, James Wilson, 306 Kennedy Drive.

Various areas of interest will be emphasized on each week night during the revival, including: Monday — Church Membership Night. The church will strive to have every member present.

Tuesday — Youth Night. The high school and college-age youth will present special music under the direction of Derrell Chapman and Mrs. Jerrolyn Self, and the youth will be responsible for attendance.

Wednesday — Sunday School at Night. The teachers and officers, along with their regular Sunday morning class members will meet in their departments for prayer at 7 p.m. and report their attendance during the service at 7:30 p.m.

Thursday — Junior High Youth Night. The junior high youth will furnish the special music and be recognized, as will the women and girls of the church. The women will meet at noon Thursday at the church for a luncheon.

The junior high choir director is Mrs. Martha Cook, the church pianist.

Friday — Buddy Night. Each member will bring a buddy whom he will introduce.

Following the Friday night service, a pizza party for the senior high youth group will be held in the church basement.

Saturday — Men and Boys Night. The day's activities will begin with a breakfast at the church at 7 a.m. for men and boys.

At noon, there will be a picnic for first and second graders and the junior department, ages 8-12.

The junior high youth group will be guests at a hamburger fry at 6 p.m. Saturday at the church.

Clayton Avenue church plans revival

The Rev. Earl McBryde of Avery, Tex., will serve as the evangelist for revival services scheduled Sunday through April 4 at Clayton Avenue Missionary Baptist Church, 200 Clayton Ave.

The services will start at 7:30 nightly.

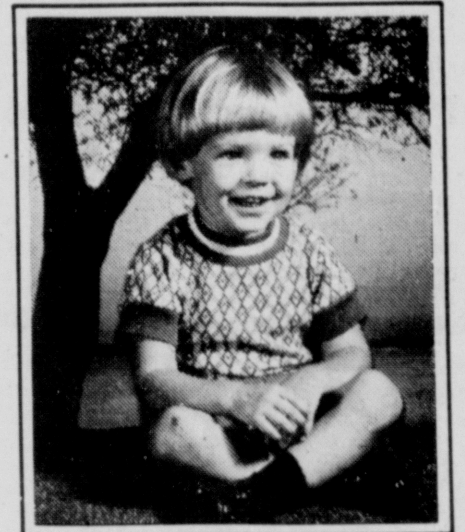

The Rev. Mr. McBryde, currently pastor of the Avery Missionary Baptist Church, was pastor of the Evergreen Baptist Church in Marston a number of years ago and has many friends in this area.

The Rev. Eugene Tarter, pastor of Clayton Avenue Baptist Church, says a nursery will be provided and special singing each night will feature the talent of the local church.

The Rev. Earl McBryde

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

THE BIBLE

No. 228. Proverbs: The Industrious Wife

The book of Proverbs concludes with ringing praise for the industrious housewife. It is an appropriate conclusion to a book devoted to the practical benefits of a well-directed, God-fearing life. "Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies. The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil. She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life." (Proverbs 31:10-12)

"Strength and honour are her clothing; and she shall rejoice in time to come. She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness. She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness." (Proverbs 31:25-27)

Not unexpectedly, the writer concludes by pointing out the supremacy of virtue to the transient qualities of charm and beauty. "Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain; but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised. Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let her own works praise her in the gates." (Proverbs 31:30-31)

Lefley ties mark; Blues win 5-2

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Chuck Lefley's 40th and 41st goals tied a St. Louis Blues record but could have been mere consolation.

Instead the National Hockey League club received strong goaltending to go with the Lefley performance Thursday night and emerged with a 5-2 conquest of the high-scoring Pittsburgh Penguins.

"With Pittsburgh, you have to expect about anything," said Blues goalie Ed Staniowski, a tired but pleased rookie after kicking out 35 shots.

"The last time we played them I thought they scored on shots I should have stopped," noted Staniowski, recalling a 7-1 reversal the Blues suffered at the hands of Pittsburgh on March 14.

"Tonight I tried to improvise a little and stayed lower some of the time," Staniowski added. "You have to use your head a little, depending on who you're playing. What counts is keeping the puck out of the net."

Except for Jean Pronovost's 51st goal, which tied an NHL record at the outset, and Pierre Larouche's 46th, the 5-foot-9, 20-year-old Staniowski was flawless.

Ron Schock was stopped on a breakaway in the middle period while St. Louis was nursing a 3-1 lead and encountering a budding Penguins comeback.

Later Staniowski peered from behind defenseman Bob Plager to steer aside Simon Nolet's power play blast, and in the final period he repelled Schock again at the goalmouth.

"To tell you the truth I made a mistake on that," Staniowski later admitted of Schock's first rush, a bid which might have reversed the game's momentum had he scored.

"I'd backed up and given him a little too much net," Staniowski reflected. "I don't know why he missed. May be he didn't get enough wood on his shot."

After Pronovost scored in the opening six seconds to equal the NHL mark for the fastest goal at a game's start, Larry Patey quickly tied for St. Louis. Red Berenson then scored for the Blues on Barc Plager's pass in the opening minute of the middle period and Lefley's score on a breakaway opened a 3-1 advantage.

Garry Unger's 37th goal made it 4-1 early in the closing period and only Larouche's power play shot afterward eluded Staniowski preceding Lefley's second goal into an open net with 59 seconds remaining.

Falcone shines in 1-0 Cards win

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Pete Falcone struck out seven New York Mets batters in three innings of work Thursday in his first appearance for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Fellow lefty John Curtis and reliever Harry Parker collaborated on a six-hit, 1-0, shutout of the Mets that evened the Cardinals exhibition record at 1-1.

"You've got to be pleased with that kind of pitching," said Manager Red Schoendienst of the 22-year-old performer.

The Cardinals didn't exactly frighten the Mets, though, with their only tally coming on a sixth-inning triple from centerfielder Bake McBride, which drove in Don Kessinger.

Lou Brock was up to the usual tricks, stealing second base with two out in the third. It was his first theft of the spring.

Tonight the Cardinals were scheduled to travel to Lakeland for a return match against the Detroit Tigers.

Littell throws three scoreless frames vs Sox

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — It was the first exhibition of the season for Al Fitzmorris and he demonstrated near perfect control.

Royals Manager Whitey Herzog was pleased as his Kansas City squad shutout the Chicago White Sox, 2-0. He was especially pleased with Fitzmorris.

"He kept after 'em. That's the way I want him to pitch. Forget the nibbling and throw strikes. After three innings he had made only 25 pitches. That's a real economy run," Herzog observed.

Fitzmorris worked through five innings, made only 49 pitches and was touched for only two infield hits while striking out two.

Softball sign-up tomorrow

Sign-ups for the Sikeston Womens and Girls Softball Association will be held tomorrow morning, March 27, at the Sikeston High School fieldhouse. Registration for the league will be from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

Registrants should bring $2.00 for league insurance at the time they sign up.

Scott Central ranked first

The Scott Central Braves, winners of the State Class 1-A Tournament two weeks ago, were voted the number one team in the state by the Missouri Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association, as expected.

In fact, all four of Missouri's state champs were given number one recognition in their respective classifications.

The Braves 32-1 record was the best among the state's small schools. Runner-up Glasgow finished at 31-2, with one of the losses coming to Scott Central in the finals.

The Lilbourn Panthers, who unexpectedly lost in the quarterfinals of the 2-A state tournament after winning the event the past two years in a row, were fourth in 2-A with a 23-6 slate. St. James was the number one team in 2-A.

The Kennett Indians were the only area team mentioned in either of the other two polls. The Indians, who went 24-3 this season but lost in the regional semifinals, were tied for tenth place with Union.

The Sikeston Bulldogs, who were ranked statewide all season in the Class 4-A top ten, were not mentioned in the final large school poll.

May & Smith lead PH voting

WICHITA, Kan. — Player of the Year Scott May of Indiana and Missouri All-American guard Willie Smith led voting for positions on the East and West squads set to battle the night of April 5 in the Fifth Annual Pizza Hut Basketball Classic. Some 3.2 million ballots were tabulated for the NCAA and NAIA-sanctioned charity event scheduled for the Las Vegas Convention Center.

The top eight votegetters on each team receive automatic invitations to appear in the Pizza Hut Classic. Two additional at-large selections per squad will be named later this week.

Many led all voters with support on 397,416 ballots. The 6-foot-7 forward's closest competition came from Vanderbilt All-Southeastern Conference forward Jeff Fosnes (391,046), Atlantic Coast Conference player of the year Mitch Kupchak from North Carolina (388,295) and Maryland All-America guard John Lucas (383,803).

Rounding out the top eight for the East team to be coached by Indiana's Bobby Knight were Wisconsin forward Dale Koehler, St. John's forward Beaver Smith, Austin Peay guard Charlie Fishback and IU guard Quinn Buckner.

Smith, who led Mizzou to the Big 8 Conference title and was the league leading scorer, topped the West with 364,752 votes. Following the 6-foot-2 lefthander, the West's top eight votegetters were Utah State 7-foot center Ed Gregg, Texas A&M forward Sonny Parker, Colorado State guard Barry Sabas, Marymount NAIA All-America forward Jim Hearn, North Texas State forward Terry Bailey, Oregon All-America guard Ron Lee, and all-time Southwest Conference scoring leader Rick Bullock of Texas Tech. Kansas State's Jack Hartman will coach the West.

The 1976 Gulfstream Park thoroughbred racing meeting runs from March 6 through May 11.

TAKE TIME FOR BLUEGILL

How long has it been since you really caught a lot of fish? Most anglers, as they gain experience, spend their time pursuing large trout, bass, salmon and other species. But just how often do you take a trophy-size fish? There are usually acres of empty water between catches.

If you've been devoting most of your energy to this kind of angling, perhaps it's time to stop and consider fishing for fun. Although they're not going to break any records, bluegill do rate on top when it comes to exciting and enjoyable fishing. Spring is the time to go after them, and the method used by the fishermen in Mercury outdoor-boards' outdoor department is guaranteed to put some fun into your fishing.

When water temperatures reach 67 degrees, bluegill begin to spawn. With her tail, the female scoops out a shallow depression and lays the eggs. Male bluegill guard their nests from predator fish, which usually include other bluegill. Nests often overlap at this time, and the crowded condition brings excellent fishing.

The technique favored by many anglers calls for simple tackle; a light-action, seven-foot fly rod and a soft rubber cricket for a lure. If the fly rod isn't available, a limber cane pole works just as well. Fish from a boat and cast along the shore at various distances from the bank until the fish are found. Then anchor the boat and continue to fish in one spot until the action stops.

Let the artificial cricket (or a live one, if they are available) slowly sink beneath the surface over the multiple nests. The opportunity to feed is almost irresistible to bluegill in the area, whether they are guarding the nest or waiting to prey on one whose male fish is gone.

Don't worry about hurting the bluegill population. The female lays up to 35,000 eggs, and since many of these live to become adult fish there's no chance for a bluegill shortage.

Bulldog golfers beat Perryville

PERRYVILLE — The Sikeston Bulldog golf team, bolstered by a good group of experienced senior linksters, picked up a four-stroke victory in their opening match of the season Thursday afternoon, defeating Perryville 162-166 at the Perryville Country Club.

Chris Alberts was medalist, turning in a 37 for the nine hole course. Greg Jarrell fired a 41 and Ron Friday and Malcom Vogel each for 42 for SHS.

Mike Schamburg and Joe Vogel shot 40's for the Pirates. Ken Dicus added a 41 and David Clements scored 45.

Coach Mike Foster, who is in his first season as Sikeston golf coach, will have five days to prepare his team for their next opponent. The Dexter Bearcats invade the Sikeston Country Club next Wednesday afternoon.

Ali goes hunting for lion again

NEW YORK (AP) — Muhammad Ali will go "lion hunting" for the second time in three months when the boxing champion meets Antonio Inoki in Tokyo June 26. But Inoki will be a completely different breed of cat for the heavyweight champion.

Inoki is a wrestler known as the "The Young Lion."

"I've always wanted to meet a rassler," said Ali who knocked out the Lion of Flanders — Belgian Jean-Pierre Coopman — last Feb. 20.

Ali will make two more title defenses before he meets Inoki in an exhibition being billed as the World Martial Arts Championship. "I've always wanted to show I'm scientific enough to beat a rassler," Ali said Thursday at a news conference called to formally announce the match.

Ali's bait to meet the "The Young Lion" is a guarantee of $6.1 million, which will be the biggest purse of his career.

"That figure's legitimate," said promoter Bob Arum when questioned about the financial projections made for the boxer - wrestler confrontation — a confrontation which is not new but one that before has never had the benefit of closed-circuit television.

"We'll have more seats than for a heavyweight championship fight because we'll have wrestling promoters," said Arum who said the price for a close-circuit telecast ticket "will be basically $10."

The promoters- Arum's Top Rank, Inc., and Video Techniques, both of New York and Lincoln National Productions of California — estimate the event could gross $10 million and that Inoki could earn as much as $3.5 million by receiving $2 million from worldwide television revenue and the entire live gate from the event at the 15,000-seat Budokan Arena.

The Ali-Inoki fight will be the second part of a closed-circuit television doubleheader and will start at noon Saturday, June 26, in Tokyo so it can be seen in the United States at 10 p.m., EST, Friday.

The first half will pit wrestler Andre the Giant against a boxer at Shea Stadium in New York, Arum would like the boxer to be former heavyweight contender Jerry Quarry.

The rules for the fight are not definitely set but basically the bout will last 15 rounds and it can end on a decision — the winner of a round get five points — or if Ali knocks out Inoki, or if Inoki pins Ali. Also, Ali will wear gloves; Inoki will not.

"I want the right to punch when I'm down," said Ali. "If I'm on my back, I want to be able to jab up. If I'm on my knees, I want to punch down."

"When your fist connects with my chin," said Inoki through an interpreter, "take care your fist is not damaged."

Ali looked and Inoki's prominent jaw and named him "The Pelican."

Devils rip Bluejays

CHAFFEE — Randy Newcomer struck out six batters and gave up only one hit in three innings of work on the mound for the Chaffee to give the Red Devils a 10-1 win over the Charleston Bluejays in the opening game of the season for both clubs.

Newcomer was relieved by Scott Wachter, who pitched the fourth through the sixth inning and Horrell finished the game.

Chaffee jumped on losing hurler Naile of the Bluejays for a single run in the bottom of the first inning and Rex Meyr slammed a two run homer in the second inning to give the Red Devils the margin of victory.

Chaffee added a single run in the bottom of the fourth and added icing to the cake in the bottom of the sixth as Don Kiefer sparked a six run rally with a two run single. Charleston scored their lone run in the top of the sixth.

Chaffee belted the Charleston pitchers for a total of 10 while the three Red Devil moundsmen allowed only three hits for the Bluejays.

UCLA & Indiana meet tomorrow

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The UCLA basketball team is here but the UCLA mystique is gone.

A powerhouse team that played the favorite's role for as long as anyone can remember, UCLA is in the unfamiliar position of underdog as the NCAA prepared to hold its championship semifinal doubleheader Saturday at the Spectrum.

Indiana, which routed UCLA 84-64 in the first game of the season last November, is a six-to-eight-point choice to beat the Bruins again after Rutgers plays Michigan in the opener.

"Opening games are often not a reliable yardstick for comparison," said Indiana Coach Bobby Knight, uncertain that his Big Ten brutes should be rated that much better than the defending national champions. "UCLA has improved greatly over the season."

Indiana has also improved. The Hoosiers, in fact, appear to be peaking with a 30-0 record that includes victories over St. John's, Alabama and Marquette in the regional playoffs.

"The availability of Scott May makes us a stronger club at this point than a year ago," said Knight, referring to the fact that the All-American forward was virtually useless in last year's playoffs with an injured left arm.

The Bruins, winners of 10 national championships under John Wooden, started this season under new coach Gene Bartow in a typical fashion. After that embarrassing loss to Indiana on national television, they continued to fumble and feel their way while adjusting to the traditional program.

"Our players were still learning about a new coach," says Bartow. "We ran a lot of people in and out."

The once-mighty Bruins were even beaten on their home court — something that hadn't happened for 98 games at Pauley Pavilion. Bartow got hate mail, obscene phone calls and there was talk of a mutiny. He admits it wasn't easy following a man of Wooden's stature.

"I wouldn't recommend it for young coaches, a steady diet of following John Wooden," says Bartow. "But seriously, I'm happy to be in the final four. I think things have gone as well as expected when you follow a hot selection."

The winners will play for the national championship Monday night.

Walker brothers boost Bernie to 11-1 victory

BERNIE — Coach Jack McGowan's Bernie Mules opened up their baseball season here Thursday afternoon with a six inning 11-1 victory over the Parma Pirates.

Coach McGowan started sophomore Randy Walker on the mound and Perkins quickly greeted the young hurler with a homerun in the top of the first inning but that was all the runs that Parma could manage as Walker held the Pirates to only four hits in the game.

Bernie pushed across a run in the bottom of the second inning to tie the game but blasted losing pitcher Don Thatch for eight runs in the bottom of the third inning as freshman Rodney Walker, brother of pitcher Randy, swatted a three run homer to cap the rally. Bob Carson slammed a two run double in the bottom of the fifth to end the game with the six run rule.

Losing pitcher Thatch gave up 10 hits in the game. Walker struckout 10 batters en route to the victory.

Sutton & Bryant are sharp

By The Associated Press

Right-hander Don Sutton gearing up for opening day, and left-hander Ron Bryant, hoping to win a spot on the roster, are both off to impressive starts for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The two made their spring training debuts Thursday afternoon by combining for a 7-4 shutout of the Philadelphia Phillies. Sutton, flashing mid-season form, fired six innings of two-hit ball, struck out three batters and walked none.

"I wanted to go as long as I could," said Sutton, who has already been named the club's opening-day pitcher for the fifth straight year. "I pitched five innings the other day in an intrasquad game and felt like I could go even farther."

"I felt the same today," Bryant, trying to hook on with the Dodgers as a free agent, worked the final three innings, gave up two hits and struck out four.

"I have to be encouraged after what I did today," said Bryant. "I felt really good out there."

Bryant won 24 games for San Francisco in 1973, but when downhill after that. He injured his back in a swimming pool accident and managed only a 3-15 mark with the Giants in 1974. He was dealt to St. Louis last season, lost his only decision and then went into temporary retirement.

A good showing by Bryant would help the Dodgers ease the probable loss of Andy Messersmith, who has played out his option and is currently trying to sell his services to the highest bidder.

Dave Lopes and Ivan DeJesus provided the offense in Thursday's game. Lopes homered and doubled to drive in three runs and DeJesus also hit a home run.

Elsewhere, Kansas City's Al Fitzmorris surrendered just two infield hits over five innings as the Royals trimmed the Chicago White Sox 2-0; Lefty Pete Falcone struck out seven batters in three innings to help the St. Louis Cardinals edge the New York Mets 1-0.

A two-run homer by John Ellis broke a seventh-inning tie and led the Texas Rangers to a 10-9 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles; Pittsburgh's Al Oliver made a game-saving catch with the bases loaded and added a two-run double as the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Detroit Tigers 4-2.

Jose Morales pinch-hit a sacrifice fly in the 10th inning to give the Montreal Expos a 5-4 victory over the Houston Astros; Shortstop Eddie Brinkman's double error on Tom Paciorek's sacrifice bunt in the 10th inning permitted him winning run to score in the Atlanta Braves' 2-1 win over the New York Yankees. The Braves won again in a night game with Cincinnati, edging the Reds 7-6 in 11 innings on Clarence Gaston's run-scoring single.

New acquisitions Ed Herrmann and Bill Melton combined to drive in three runs and lead the California Angels past the Oakland A's 4-1; A three-run homer by Dwight Evans and a two-run shot by John Balaz powered the Boston Red Sox past the Minnesota Twins 7-2.

Meet Astrid Lindgren and Her

Popular Pippi Longstocking!

Mrs. Lindgren, who is now nearly 70, was brought up on a farm. She once worked as a secretary, so she writes all her books in shorthand and then types the final copy. She was a children's book editor for many years. She has two daughters and seven grandchildren.

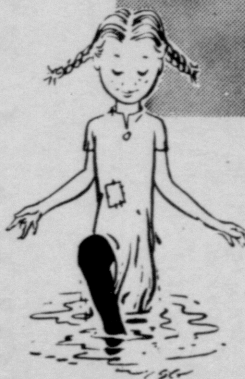

Five million "Pippi" books have been translated into 35 different languages and sold throughout the world. "Pippi" might be the best known character in children's literature.

She can do anything she wants to — go to bed as late as she likes, buy 36 pounds of sweets at a time and lift a horse into the air. She has marvelous powers, but she is careful how she uses them.

"Pippi" books include "Pippi Longstocking," "Pippi Goes on Board" and "Pippi in the South Seas," published by Viking Press, New York, N.Y.

April 2 is International Children's Book Day. Let's celebrate by learning about a famous author and book character from Sweden.

One night, 34 years ago, Astrid Lindgren ran out of stories to tell her young daughter.

"Whom shall I tell you about now?" she asked.

"Pippi Longstocking," said the little girl, making up a name on the spot.

Three years later, Mrs. Lindgren fell and broke her ankle. She wound up in bed with nothing to do, so she wrote her first "Pippi" book.

In the past 32 years she has written 40 books. She has made up lots of other characters. She has written plays, films and TV shows.

Inger Nilsson as "Pippi"

The Swedish film director interviewed over 800 little girls before Inger Nilsson got the part. Of course, she has red hair and freckles. She has appeared in three "Pippi" films. Now there are books based on the films, too.

Dr. Lamb Diabetic needs strict diet

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am supposed to be a diabetic and have been for two years. I am still concerned about this because at times I feel like I'm not. The way I felt before going to a doctor was always thirsty, dizzy and hardly able to see. I had double vision and also weight loss of about 20 pounds in two weeks. I made an appointment to see the doctor and he told me to eat something real sweet two hours before coming in, which I did. He ran a urine test and also a blood test and then put me in the hospital. They said my blood sugar went to 450. I don't really know what this means. They started me on 38 units of insulin. I can't stay on my diet. What effect will this have on me? Does this mean I am really a diabetic and I just don't want to accept it?

DEAR READER — You are a diabetic. Even considering the variations in laboratory tests and the temporary peak rises in blood sugars that people may have, your level is way out.

Your symptoms were typical of an untreated diabetic. The basic defect is the failure of the normal insulin mechanism to enable glucose (sugar) to be transported into the cells for energy. It builds up in the blood. Normally the blood level even after eating a very sweet meal is not over 170.

The excess glucose in the blood is spilled into the urine producing what the old medical sages called "sweet urine." This food energy is literally lost into the urine and is not available to the body, resulting in weight loss.

The kidney has trouble concentrating sugar and uses a lot of water to flush out excess glucose. When you lose a lot of water you are thirsty. A typical advanced diabetic is thirsty, drinks a lot of water, passes a lot of urine, is weak and may have weight loss despite eating lots of food.

All carbohydrates from any source including milk merely help build up the level of blood glucose and are not used properly for energy. In the advanced diabetic the body protein including that in the muscle may be broken down and converted into glucose. This causes the blood glucose level to rise even if the carbohydrate intake is restricted.

You have to correct the basic defect as best you can. That means providing insulin. The amount of insulin you take has to be balanced against the amount of food you eat. That is why you must be consistent in your diet and follow your doctor's directions carefully. Exercise also influences the utilization of food energy. It becomes important to regulate your physical activity level. The intelligent diabetic follows a consistent pattern of the same amounts of energy intake in the diet and energy expenditure in terms of physical activity. This enables satisfactory control with a relatively constant level of insulin.

You are very unwise if you are not staying on the diet your doctor asked you to follow in relation to the amount of insulin he is giving you. Diabetes is a serious disease. A great deal can be done to control it and prevent complications in the patient who is well supervised and cooperates with the doctor.

You have an advanced form of diabetes and you need all the help you can get. Those who want more information on diabetes can send 50 cents for The Letter, number 3-10, Diabetes, The Sweet Sickness. Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Address your letter to me in care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Advances in 'Car of Tomorrow' show tune-ups not necessary

BRUSSELS (AP)—It will never be necessary to adjust the carburetor on the car of tomorrow. A European expert predicts that a small electronic device and a foolproof magnetic contact breaker will take everything into account for the life of the engine.

"Advances in semiconductors and integrated circuits mean that the total integration of carburetion and ignition is around the corner," according to Joseph Gerard Wurm, a Common Market expert on automobiles.

He said that sensors would feed the electronic device with all the information it needed on the water temperature, atmospheric pressure, the speed of the engine and other factors to make sure that as much of the fuel as possible was burned with the smallest emission of pollutants.

Wurm described "The Car of Tomorrow" in an article for "Industry and Society," published by the European Commission, the Common Market executive. He told the Associated Press that one American firm — Chrysler — has made a lot of progress in using transistors in its ignition system. But he saw centralized electronics for ignition and carburetion as still five or six years off.

His predictions were made with European cars largely in mind, but he said American models would follow the same trend. Front wheel drive, already normal on most European cars, he expects to be standard on more expensive models as well and to spread in the United States.

At least one American car — Oldsmobile — has a model with a front wheel drive.

Wurm called the front wheel drive cheap to manufacture and a guarantee of better road-holding and safety. In Europe it has been used mostly in small and medium sized cars — which are also small, by American standards — but he said the development of engines made of light metal alloys will popularize the device for larger models. Peugeot and Volvo, he added, now have engines weighing only 330 to 350 pounds.

Even in choosing classes, 'Boys will be boys!'

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — Despite the new age of unisex, girls are not swarming into mechanical shop classes, if schools in Bridgeport, long known as the Industrial Capital of Connecticut, are an indicator.

At privately-operated Bullard Havens Technical School, 80 of the 144 girls enrolled are in the beauty culture and fashion design classes.

Only one is in mechanical drafting and two in printing.

There are no girls enrolled in the plumbing, masonry, machine, electrical or automotive shops, according to George A. Sender, director of guidance and admissions at the school.

At the city's public high schools, the situation is not much different.

Six girls are enrolled in shop classes at Central High School and seven are taking shop at Harding High.

While there is a small number of girls enrolled in the shop courses, the number of high school boys enrolled in what were once considered women's courses is even smaller.

At Bullard Havens there are no boys enrolled in either the beauty culture or fashion design courses.

At Harding there are seven boys taking homemaking. Few boys at Central are enrolled in homemaking.

Dr. Dorothy Tennov, psychology professor in the Bridgeport area and author of "Psychotherapy: The Hazardous Cure," said few boys take what are considered to be women's courses because of their cultural upbringing.

"I would imagine there would be subtle pressure from various sources, including parents. It takes time."

At Bullard Havens Sender said many girls take shop classes at Tech on an exploratory basis. He says 42 freshmen girls are taking "exploratory" courses in mechanical shop classes. But he predicted few will remain in those classes.

"It's a dirty type of work. It's heavy, dirty work, though it pays well," he said. "But they come into the classes and don't have the slightest idea of what it's all about."

New country-rock music is featured

NEW YORK (AP) — If you've been wondering what it is they call the Texas brand of country-rock music, take a gander tonight at public television's "Austin City Limits." It's a good example.

It features singer-composer Jerry Jeff Walker, a New York-born exponent of Lone Star country-rock, and the Lost Gonzo Band, six lads who sing and play acoustic guitar, electric guitar, bass, drums, organ and piano.

(Check your TV listings to be sure the show is playing in your area tonight, when the Public Broadcasting Service is feeding it to most PBS stations. Some may elect to air it on another evening.)

The program is a straightforward hour of music, 12 tunes sung before a young, enthusiastic studio audience with virtually no between-songs chatter by the performers.

The proceedings start imaginatively, with tuning-up sounds and audio-level checks heard as we see videotaped sights of the Austin area — dusty country roads and shots of such saloons as "The Texas Opry House," where Austin music folks are wont to sneer at the more establishment kind of country music offered in Nashville.

Then it's back to the studio, where the Lost Gonzo boys start things going with "Dead Armadillo," which sounds awfully close to a swing-style number of the 1930s, and a slow pop piece called "Railroad Man."

A subsequent tune, which takes a woeful walk down a country mode, isn't too interesting, but I dug the title, "The Last Thing I Needed This Morning was to Have You Walk Out on Me."

Although billed as the headliner, Walker doesn't check in until about 15 minutes into the show, arriving with his shirttail out, strumming a beat-up old guitar and joining the Gonzo gang midway through their hit "London Homesick Blues."

If you've never heard Walker, he sings in a boozey baritone and at times slurs his words so much you'll have trouble understanding the lyrics of "Mr. Bojangles," a nifty tune he wrote in the 1960s.

But he and the Gonzo troops have a relaxed, friendly approach that is mighty appealing. The only problem is that Texas country-rock just seems too confined in a studio.

The songs are the kind you hear in saloons, where, as Glen Campbell aptly puts it, they play "dancin' and fightin' music."

And while director Bruce Scafe does his best to make the sights as appealing as the sounds, an hour of in-studio long shots, closeups, dissolves and audience shots can wear awfully thin.

It might have eased the monotony had the show occasionally cut from the performers to the sights of the country they sing about, to visually illustrate some of the ideas expressed in the tunes.

Inflation and unemployment may remain as population grows

WASHINGTON (AP) — Inflation and unemployment may become permanent problems even for highly developed nations unless world population growth is reduced, says a new

United Nations-financed study. In reviewing 22 issues affected by population, the study concluded that "nearly all have one thing in common: they can be expected to get much worse before they get better."

Rapid population growth, it said, is already straining the world's capacity to grow crops, catch fish, fight illness, provide housing and jobs, and fight off inflation and pollution.

The study was prepared by the Worldwatch Institute, a private nonprofit research organization, with funding from the United Nations Fund for Population Activities.

Population growth is leading to increased urbanization, overgrazing of forage lands, destruction of forests, crowding and political conflict, and demands on energy, minerals and resources, the study said.

"Indeed, inflation poses one of the most difficult challenges that political leaders will face in the years ahead."

Doctor may help out in Puxico

PUXICO — This Stoddard County community is seeking a doctor—and they have one interested.

Months of work by many in the community have failed to turn up a badly needed doctor. Last year, the city saw legal tangles stop a plan to build a clinic.

Now, however, Dr. John Hunt, a Poplar Bluff physician, has agreed to come to Puxico for a full-time family practice—if several conditions are met first.

The doctor has reportedly told Puxico civic and business leaders that he needs a building with 1,800 square feet of space and about $25,000 worth of medical equipment, including X-ray machines.

An informal meeting was held last week at Bank of Puxico, and a group of Puxico leaders agreed that the idea was "very possible."

The Puxico State Bank is preparing to launch a building program and agreed to build an addition large enough to house the doctor, which Bank of Puxico will provide rent-free.

The group also agreed that "it is feasible" to raise the additional $25,000 that is needed. In fact, nearly $6,000 was pledged at the first meeting.

A community meeting will be held tonight at 7 in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall to discuss further details. It was noted that Dr. Hunt plans to attend the meeting.

'Helter Skelter' to be televised

NEW YORK (AP) — Come April 1 and 2, actor Steve Railsback, a slight, soft-spoken Texan, is starring in a two-hour CBS show in a role that might understandably give any actor the willies.

He plays Charles Manson, the diminutive leader of a hippie-style "family" who with three female followers was convicted in 1971 in the slayings of actress Sharon Tate and six others in Los Angeles.

Railsback, 30, says he was a bit wary of taking the Manson role in the show, "Helter Skelter," considering that some members of the original Manson clan are still around and still may be loyal to him.

"As a matter of fact, I turned the part down at first," said Railsback, a native of Wichita Falls, Tex., and a struggling actor in New York at the time of the Tate-LaBianca murders in August 1969.

"I'd started hearing rumors. And you know, once a rumor gets started it builds and builds. So I really started getting nervous about it. But it didn't last but a couple of days."

"Because I started thinking that if I began letting other people dictate to me what I should do, by fear or whatever way they do it, then I'm not going to be able to live with myself."

The actor, who said he never was threatened before, during or after filming "Helter Skelter," was asked what sort of rumors he'd heard when it became known a dramatization of the Manson case would be made for TV.

"Well, there was a rumor that Tom Gries, the director, had been threatened, gotten guard dogs and was moving his family to Florida — which wasn't true," he said.

"One rumor that turned out to be true was that the wife of the casting director had gotten a phone call from somebody — I don't know who — who said, 'If this picture is done, you'll be killed.'"

"But it could have been from anybody because L.A.'s filled with crackpots. It could have been anybody just getting a charge."

Railsback, who has lived in New York 10 years, resembles

Crimes reported up but homicides dropped

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of crimes reported to police in the United States increased 9 per cent last year, but murders dropped for the first time in more than a decade, the FBI said today.

Murders in 1975 declined 1 per cent from the 1974 total of 20,600, preliminary figures showed.

But the other six categories measured by the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports reflected 1975 increases ranging from 1 per cent for rape to 12 per cent for larceny.

The new report suggested that while crime is continuing to rise, the rate of increase may be slowing. The 1975 increase was half the 18 per cent surge recorded a year earlier.

Broken down by quarters, the report showed that crime rose 18 per cent during the first three months of 1975 compared with the same period a year earlier. But the increase slowed to 8 per cent in the second quarter, 6 per cent in the third and 4 per cent in the fourth.

"While the per cent increase in reported serious crime in the nation was only half as great as it was in 1974, the levels of crime remain much too high," Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi said. "All segments of the criminal justice system must continue to improve their efforts to reduce crime."

The murder rate measurement is generally considered the most accurate FBI crime statistic because virtually all murders are reported to police. The FBI figure is a compilation of murders, rapes, robberies, assaults, burglaries, larcenies and vehicle thefts reported to state and local police.

The FBI acknowledges that in some categories, particularly rape, the number of offenses reported to police reflects only a portion of the crimes actually committed.

The 1 per cent decrease in the murder rate marked the first time since 1962 that homicides have declined over a full-year period.

Federal judges seeking pay increase file lawsuit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirty seven federal judges joined 44 of their colleagues today in a lawsuit against the government seeking higher pay. They added a new charge that the Senate illegally blocked a pay raise for them.

The 44 judges who first filed suit on Feb. 11 had claimed their compensation was eroded by inflation and this violated a constitutional ban against reducing their pay.

A U.S. District judge earns $42,000 a year. A judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals makes $44,625.

All 81 judges claim their compensation should have kept pace with a 34.5 per cent increase in the consumer price index between March 15, 1969, and Oct. 1, 1975.

In addition they say Congress granted the President power to adjust judicial salaries in every fourth year and that in 1974 Richard Nixon granted a 7.5 per cent increase in each of the following three years.

"These adjustments in judicial salaries would have taken effect if no action had been taken by either house of Congress," said the complaint filed in the U.S. Court of Claims. "Although the House of Representatives took no action and no other salary rate was enacted into law, the Senate disapproved the President's salary adjustments."

That disapproval, said the judges, "constituted an unlawful, unconstitutional and void exercise of executive power."

The new plaintiffs include U.S. District Judge Julius J. Hoffman, who presided over the Chicago Seven trial in Chicago. Hoffman now is a senior judge.

The judges are represented by former Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg. The suit was filed in the Claims Court because that is the forum for monetary actions against the government.

Bernie Chamber to host annual banquet Monday

BERNIE — The Bernie Chamber of Commerce will host its 10th annual banquet Monday, at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria for members, prospective members and guests.

J.M. Allen, 1975 president of the chamber, will be master of ceremonies. The girls sextet from the high school will present a medley of patriotic songs.

Guest speaker will be Ernest B. Brown, who is working to obtain a doctor for Bernie.

The new officers for the Chamber of Commerce will be installed at the dinner meeting. They include: Ronald Walker, president; Jerry Smith, vice president; Carolyn Buttry, secretary-treasurer; Allen, Harold Stafford and Leslie Norman, directors.

Walker, the incoming president, will announce his standing committees for the new year, including industrial development committee, retail merchants committee, community betterment committee and agricultural committee.

Food stamps issue disputed

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Missouri's state auditor and the Division of Family Services appear locked in a heated dispute over the impact of the loss resulting from food stamps going to ineligible recipients.

In a statement issued Wednesday, Ewing Gourley, head of the family services division, questioned procedures and information used by State Auditor George Lehr to reach the conclusion that 40 per cent of the state's food stamp recipients are ineligible for the program.

Lehr said earlier that payment of benefits to ineligible persons had cost the state between $30 million and $70 million a year. Gourley was also critical of the auditor making his figures public before bringing them to the attention of food stamp officials.

The Family Services chief said the last study Lehr had made of the food stamp program was in 1974. Gourley claimed that recent studies have placed the food stamp ineligible rate at 12.4 per cent and not 40 per cent as claimed by Lehr.

But Lehr said even with a 12.4 per cent ineligible rate, the state is losing $24 million a year according to his calculations.

"To a social worker, 12.4 per cent may be an acceptable margin of error," Lehr said. "To an auditor, however, $24 million is a lot of money. I would say it is a lot of money to most Missouri taxpayers."

Equal opportunity still problem in US

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The United States has a "long, long way to go" before women, blacks and other minorities move freely into responsible business or governmental management positions, according to the head of the U.S. Equal Opportunity Employment Commission.

There have been some gains since the inception of the EEOC in 1964, Lowell Perry said, but not enough in the upper management levels.

The agency has on file 100,000 complaints concerning racial and sex discrimination, Perry said, a two-year backlog. He predicted another 200,000 complaints will be filed in the next few years.

Perry estimated about 55 per cent of the complaints concern racial discrimination, 40 per cent deal with sexual discrimination and the rest with a variety of minority groups.

Perry said the EEOC compares the percentages of various minority groups and women in the over-all labor force in an area with the percentage of people of those groups in different job levels in a business or government organization.

If there is a difference, the EEOC may decide the violation is valid.

Bike-a-thon planned to aid cancer fund

PARMA — Parma's first bike-a-thon will leave the school parking lot at noon April 10. Riders from grades 7-12 will be involved in the 20-mile trip.

Students wearing the American Cancer Society badges will canvass the area until that date seeking pledges. Prizes will be awarded to those collecting the most money. All proceeds will go to the American Cancer Society.

For further information call Donna McGee at telephone number 396-5631 or Gay Ramsey at 357-4537.

Internecine Battle

In 1886 Robert Love Taylor, a Democrat, defeated his brother, Alfred Alexander Taylor, Republican, for the governorship of Tennessee in one of the most remarkable political contests ever conducted in any state. The campaign was called "The War of the Roses" because the candidates traveled over the state together, Bob wearing a red rose and Alf a white rose so their followers could tell them apart.
